

The Rain Hides Her Tears

Ron Davison, Trans. Benjamin Knorr (SOCAN)2014

D A⁷ D

Her

423 D D(sus4) D A⁷ D o - pen heart Blee-ding to the sum - mer_ rain she

427 D(sus4) D D(sus4) D A⁷
wipes the tears_ from her eyes_ Tries to speak but there's too_ much

430 D Bm A pain She had a beau - ti - ful thing_ in her dreams she

433 E Bm D
lost it all_ what does_ it mean The soft e - cho of the

437 D(sus4) D A⁷ D D(sus4) D rain_ fall-ing on her si - lent face A - lone to - ge - ther she was

441 D(sus4) D A⁷ D
reach - ing out_ for a way, in a voice_ as qui - et as_ the night_ She

444 Bm A E
said she liked walk-ing in the rain Be-cause the rain hides_ her

447 Bm A
tears_ oh, the rain so mild a

450 B C[#]m A E
friend when no_ one cares It will list-en to your pri-vate thoughts and wipe your

455 B A

tears So, let's go walk-ing in the rain be-cause the

458 E B A

rain hides_ your tears The rain will end the

462 B A

sun will shine_ the pain will end_ and the

464 B A E B

tears will dry_ and as I watch a smile cross-es your face as you

469 A E B Bm

watch the roll-ing clouds slow-ly fade a - way you said you like walk-ing in the

474 A E Bm

rain_ be-cause the rain hides your tears_ I hope you have the strength to

478 A E Bm A

final-ly con-quer your fears Now I like walk-ing in the rain be-cause the

483 E B A E B

rain hides my tears I like walk-ing in the rain_