It really is time to #delaythegreen

The 1-2 trillion/year needed to drop the temperature by the 2015 Paris Accord's 0.17 °C is unjustifiable (that is less than the error estimates in the models).

And for those CAGW alarmists that believe that a 10 year delay would take us past the oint of return (that new end of the world ate that keeps getting delayed), I am still waiting for anyone (scientist or not) to provide an empirical CO<sub>2</sub>/Temperature ataset that shows CO, driving the climate any statistically significant historical time ale. A non-existent dataset that is required to move the CAGW narrative from a religious belief to a scientific principle.

Delay The Green

The debt is a real problem that continues to grow and will worsen with rising interest rates!

Added Bonus Delaying the green unnecessary they are!
